1740 yr.

22. -- July 11. The Highest resolution on the Senate's report to the Cabinet. –

On the expulsion of Jews living in Malorossia.

Report. In 739, July 14, to the Cabinet of Her Imperial Majesty from the Senate, there was a submission stating that, based on a decree sent from the Senate to Malaya Russia to the Military General Chancellery, it was ordered that all living in Malaya

Russia Jews of male and female sex, by force of this decree, which took place in the Supreme Secret Council in the year of 1727 *), ought to be sent abroad and henceforth they shall not be allowed to enter Russia under any pretense (except permission was given to enter for the trading-fairs for merchant's trade, according to the orders sent from the Supreme Secret Council to Hetman Apostle in 1728 ). Upon that decree, the General Military Chancellery reported to the Senate, that if the Jews from Malaya Russia had to be sent abroad during the military situation with the Turks at that time, and those Jews could have been aware of the local whereabouts, so through their deportation could have occurred some espionage. Based on that report, which the Senate submitted to the Cabinet of Her Imperial Majesty, and according to the resolution of the Cabinet, dated the 18th of August of that same year ) it was ordered to wait with the expulsion of the Jews until the end of the Turkish War, and meanwhile the Malorossian Chancellery was ordered to watch closely and strictly forbid anyone in the whole of the Malorossia (Little Russia) to shelter or hire the Jews, or keep them in their taverns, nor give them anything for rent; about which, for the fulfillment of this resolution, the decree from the Senate was sent to the Military General Chancellery. And since between the Russian Empire and the Ottoman Porte peace is indeed already established: for the sake of the above-mentioned resolution of the Cabinet of Her Imperial Majesty, should the living in Malaya Russia Jews be sent abroad (?) – for this the Senate requires a definition (clarification) from the Cabinet of Her Imperial Majesty. And on whose lands the Jews live, and how many under whom – this information is in the appositional register.
